The Weekly Ledger

Entered at the P. O. Mexico, Mo., and admitted as 2nd class matter.

THE County Democratic nominees and other local speakers should speak at every school district in the county between now and the November election. That's the way to get out a full vote.

THE LEDGER regrets to announce the death of Captain William Eller, one of Missouri's most substantial and highly respected citizens, and who was a host of our friends in extending sincere sympathy to the bereaved family.

THE Judges of the County election are named by the committeemen of each party for the precinct in which the committeemen live. That is the Democratic County Committeemen suggest the Democratic judges and the Republican County Committeemen suggest the Republican judges for his precinct.

IN answer to an inquiry regarding the vote in Audrain County would say that in 1910 Judge Carter got 3245 votes and F. L. Crosby 1398, making a Democratic majority of 2847. In 1912 Clark got 3390, and Cole 1323; at the same election Shannon got 3351 and Kellersals 1341, making a Democratic majority in that year about 2,000. The Democratic majority this year should be closer to 2500 than 2,000.

JUDGE BRASHEARS, in charging the Grand Jury in the case of the death of a cadet at St. John's College, in Maryland, from a hazing episode, called it an "act of murder." That is strong language, but does it not fit the offense? Happily it is a language mostly at the smaller colleges that hazing survives in anything like its old barbarity. In time a more enlightened student sentiment may be expected to sift down and stifle it there.

THE policy of "watchful waiting" was sneered at by the opponents of President Wilson, when he persistently refused to plunge his people into a useless and senseless war with Mexico. It was asserted that we were being "laughed at" by European statesmen. But now see the results of "watchful waiting," and the results of European statesmanship and, oh! what a difference, for President Wilson looms up as the grandest character and the most "gigantic figure" in the Universe. Shall we not stand by him. Yes, we will, and then some.

IF you owe any back County taxes, you should give this matter your prompt attention as Collector Pulls is arranging to clean up all the old tax accounts. Some people through carelessness have allowed their back taxes to accumulate for years and can have a good deal of money and trouble by giving it their prompt attention. Collector Pulls does not want to bring suit and run up a big bill of costs but will do so unless those who owe, come forward immediately and pay. Quite a number of these accounts are small while some amount to quite a dignified sum, and should have the immediate attention of those who do not care to be put to extra expense.

SENATOR W. J. STONE will speak in Mexico at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon, Oct. 29th. Senator Stone should be greeted with one of the largest and most enthusiastic gatherings of Democrats ever held in this part of Missouri. Senator Stone is one of this country's foremost statesmen and one of President Wilson's chief advisors. Make your arrangements to hear Senator Stone.

VOTE ON THE AMENDMENTS.

FIFTEEN propositions will be voted on as Constitutional Amendments at the November election. Do not vote against all of them simply because you do not understand some of them. Those you do not understand or are in doubt about, mark off both yes and no. Those you do understand and want to vote on, mark off the No and vote Yes. Do not throw the ballot away and lose your vote on the two or three amendments you are anxious to carry simply because you are not interested in some of them. Mark off those you do not care to vote on and vote on those you are interested in.

Politicians are expressing the opinion that all the amendments will be defeated because the voters will vote "No" clear down the line because they are opposed to some two or three of the amendments. This is not at all necessary. Of course, the liquor interests loaded the ballot with two or three propositions that ought to be voted down simply to get everybody to vote No. Take a little interest in the proposition and fool this bunch once. It can be done, if you will just take a little trouble.

PRESIDENT WILSON AND JUDGE CARTER

PRESIDENT WILSON Saturday delivered a splendid address to the Y. M. C. A. at Pittsburg, Pa. On next Sunday Judge Alex Carter will deliver an address at Benton City on Temperance. We presume that those who claim that Judge Carter should be scratched because he is making temperance speeches because there is nothing in the Democratic platform about Temperance, are in favor of scratching President Wilson because there is nothing about the Y. M. C. A. in the platform. Is it possible that any member of the Democratic party is opposed to a man being elected to office because he is making temperance speeches? Don't you suppose that if President Wilson lived in Audrain County, he would be found cordially endorsing Judge Carter's position on the questions now at issue here.

Why was Judge Carter scratched at the Primary? Why are some Democrats conspiring with Republicans to defeat him at the general election when they could find no Democrat to run against him at the Primary? Have you read the letter about Judge Carter being sent out to Republican voters by the Audrain Republican Committee?

THE New Bloomfield, Callaway County, Mo., News editorially says: The editor of the Cedar City Chronicle has a pencil sixteen inches in length which was given him by Col. White in 1896. That's some pencil and Col. White is some editor.

MISS SPROUL'S COLUMN

Now, that you men have heard the greatest living woman speaker in our country, what are you going to do about the thirteenth amendment? Many were assembled to hear Dr. Anna Howard Shaw. These respectful men and women thus honored her and they honored themselves by going to hear her. Chancing to see a stern countenance, with half-averted face, but open disapproval in the proceedings. But as her eloquence, her erudition, her humor, her pathos, and her good-natured satire were revealed, the change in such a face was wonderful to behold. And, "They who came to scoff, remained to pray."

In comparison, the rapt attention and clear understanding of a simple follower of the great speaker who teaches Equal Rights as God meant it should be, was one of the most inspiring sights throughout the vast concourse. Dr. Shaw has experienced the vicissitudes of life as well as many of its triumphs, hence her power of dramatic force, her knowledge of the psychic moment and how to use all to effect the climax of a story, or an illustration, or a heart appeal. This woman has lived life-in living it genuinely, and honestly. She makes her daily appeals for Equal Suffrage as she has been making them for many years.

Can you doubt its ultimate success when such women as Dr. Shaw are using their great brains, testing their physical endurance almost beyond belief to show the sceptical, the doubting, or the ignorant why women who are human should be treated as human?

American women are not militants. They do not seek to usurp power. They are not trying to shirk responsibilities, nor to break up the home, nor to antagonize man. There will always be homes with loving women to comfort man, to share his troubles, to double his joys. As higher education enables woman to appreciate her share in the great work of living and training, so will her vote enable her to endorse a good law or to prohibit a bad one.

Over The Telephone

Miss Allie Ellis: "I wish to vote, and hope to have the right to do so." Miss Elizabeth Paul: "I certainly am in favor of Equal Suffrage."

Mrs. Chris Kentzel: "Women should be allowed to vote. They are entitled to every right the men enjoy."

Miss Pearl Kentzel: "Suffrage is bound to come to Missouri people, as it has proved a benefit in other states, why not here?"

Miss Jennie Cantrell: "Indeed, I believe women are entitled to the ballot."

Miss Mary Kern: "I think women are equal with men and that means equal suffrage."

The following members of the Hardin College faculty have given their views on Equal Suffrage as follows:

Miss Covington, of Hardin Faculty: "I heartily endorse the movement to enfranchise the women."

Mrs. May Beasley Adam: "I believe in Equal Suffrage. There is no sane reason against it."

Miss Frances Gupion: "I heartily endorse Suffrage for women."

Miss Egbert: "The movement to enfranchise women is gaining ground every day. Women are working for their rights."

Miss Wood: "It is selfish for any man or woman to be indifferent where human beings are not enjoying equal rights in a republic."

Miss Agnes Carr Vaughn: "I am heartily hoping to see the Thirteenth Amendment carried in the coming election."

Miss Ida Schirel: "I am strongly in favor of equal suffrage."

Mrs. Peeler: "Women should have equal rights with men."

Miss Humphrey: "I am in favor of enfranchising women."

Miss Clara Vogt: "Women should be allowed the ballot for every reason that the men are allowed to vote."

CATARH SUFFERERS

Surely you know it. It's nature's true remedy for catarrh, bronchitis, croup of the breathing organs—no breathes it—no stomach dosing. Hyonol gives effective and immediate relief or money refunded. Its healing balsams quickly reach the air cells of the nose, throat and lungs. If suffering from dryness in the throat, watery eyes, husky voice, discharge from the nose or that choked up feeling—try Hyonol now—today—complete relief.

COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

By W. Clyde Johnson, County School Supt.

The first few days of the past week were spent in making to the clerks of the 90 different school boards of the county the report of my visitation to their schools. I hope that they will notice these reports closely, and then use all the means they have at hand to furnish all needed equipment, and that they will make sure that the school home is cheerful, sanitary and comfortable for their children. The conditions that exist in some communities are really a disgrace to a civilized community. The filth and the stench of the outbuildings is unendurable. Or they are open to the world. No privacy. Or the school house has black, dirty walls—the result of years of neglect, criminal neglect. Is yours one of these?

Two or three weeks after school began, a man jumped me because I had held the schools back two or three weeks by issuing the teachers' certificates so slowly. But I found that most of the schools were not ready to receive my boys and girls. No family will move into a house before it has received a thorough cleaning from cellar to garret, and the weeds have been cut down and a general fixing up has taken place. How many times has your teacher and her family of children—your children—moved in before a good cleaning up took place.

East Lack has a valuation of $87,000 and her levy is 50 cents. They pay their teacher $52.50. They have an eight months school. They have repaired, painted and papered the school house and put a solid foundation under it. They have painted the outbuildings, built a new coal house and a cement walk. The teacher, Miss Ella Criswell, and pupils have scrubbed and cleaned the house twice, the outbuildings once, have bought $5 worth of books, frames for five pictures, new window shades, and are making up a Latin order to remunerate themselves. All children of school age are in school. At the end of the first week three parents were notified and the next week all were present. Can any one beat that record? Can't you do as much?

Many schools are taking interest in the Round Up and will have exhibits. There will be three prizes amounting to $17.50. Don't you want one? I hope the weather will permit "Farmers' Rusk and me to visit you this week."

Remember the State Teachers' Association at St. Joseph, Nov. 12th to 14th.

Since writing the above, I have spent three days attending the Rural Life Conference at Kirksville. The conference was a big success. Five hundred was a great success. Five hundred rural teachers, thirteen County Superintendents, a number of preachers and many interesting lecturers were there. It was a meeting full of helpful suggestions.

A Pertinent Question. The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Tablets superior to pills?" The answer is, "They are more mild and gentle in effect and more reliable. Besides, they improve the appetite, cleanse the bowels of the liver and healthy condition, while the use of pills, owing to their drastic effect, is often followed by constipation." For sale by all dealers.

Miss Verna Pritchett Dead. Miss Verna Pritchett died at her home near Curryville, Wednesday after a long illness. Miss Pritchett formerly lived in this city, where she had a position at Malone's dry goods store.

NOTICE SALE OF BANK STOCK. I will receive sealed bids on 18 shares of Mexico Savings Bank Stock. These bids will be opened on first day of November 1914, and sold to the highest bidder, with the understanding that I have a right to reject any and all bids.

WIPED OUT CHURCH DEBT. The Rev. Dr. Booth, who will take up his work as pastor of the First Baptist Church in this city, Nov. 10, is a "live wire." Last week he cleaned up a debt of $27,000 on the church building at Johnston City, Ill., where he is now pastor. The new church cost $35,000 and Dr. Booth was instrumental in building it. The members of his church in Johnston City are very fond of their pastor as he has done a great work for them during the time he was there.

Mrs. Chas. Schopp Injured. Mrs. Charles Schopp was painfully injured late Thursday afternoon when she jumped from a buggy near East Lake. The horse Mrs. Schopp was driving became frightened at an approaching train while passing under the railroad bridge. Mrs. Schopp's injuries are not serious, her many friends will be glad to learn.

PAGEANT DANCES FOR ROUND UP WEEK

According to Miss Ida Rosamond, president of the Hardin College Alumnae Association, $450 will be netted by the women from their Pageant. This money will go to the building fund for the new gymnasium of Hardin College.

The Round Up Week committee is trying to arrange for the Hardin Pageant dances to be reproduced up town Round Up Week for the entertainment of visitors. The idea is to use the west lawn of the Court House for the stage, having seats for the audience in the street. There will be no admission if the performance is given. This was one of the most attractive features of the performance.

The audience, Thursday evening, to witness the closing performance of the Pageant was immense, almost 2,000 people crowding the enclosure. While the afternoon was a success, the evening one might be termed a triumph as the fighting was superb and showed the many beautiful costumes to decided advantage.

It would be useless to attempt any detailed notes of the evening. Suffice to say from the authors to the smallest dancer, from the first bugle call to the singing of the "Star-Spangled Banner" no entertainment ever given in the interior of Missouri ever approached it in any detail.

The performance went without a hitch and every member of the cast achieved personal success. To those who were the power behind the scene, too much credit cannot be given. The Ledger joins the people of Audrain County in extending congratulations to those who made the Pageant for its success and their untiring work in behalf of a greater community spirit for our growth and progress.

EVERY STREET IN MEXICO

Has Its Share of the Proof That Kidney Sufferers Seek?

Backache? Kidneys weak? Distressed with urinary ills? Want a reliable kidney remedy? Don't have to look far. Use what Mexico people recommend. Every street in Mexico has its cases.

Here's one Mexico man's experience. Let William Hanly, 645 N. Clark Ave., Mexico, Mo., tell it. He says: "I had severe pains in my back and kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Llewellyn & Sons' Drug Store, cured my aches and pains and consequent ills. I am pleased to recommend them."

Mr. Hanly is only one of many Mexico people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you—don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mr. Hanly had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c. all stores. Foster-McMurrin Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. "When Your Back Is Lame—Remember the Name." adv.

William Foster Dies. William Foster died at his home in west Mexico Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Mr. Foster was 36 years old and leaves a wife and one little son. Funeral services were held at the home Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Rev. W. A. Shullenger and interment made in Elmwood.

The Ledger joins other friends in extending sympathy to the bereaved family.

Would You Believe It? People often accept statements with a sort of mental reservation as much as to say, "I am not convinced," which leads us to remark that there is nothing that will so thoroughly satisfy you of the excellence of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as a personal trial. Mrs. John Fishon, Peru, Ind., who used this remedy in her family for the past ten years, says of it, "I always give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to my children when sick with coughs or colds. I like it better than any other because they take it willingly and it is free from narcotics. It has never failed to give immediate relief." For sale by all dealers.

A BIBLE CHANGED

ED TAYLOR'S LIFE (By H. C. Turner)

Montgomery City, Mo., Oct. 24.—Just on the eve of the election, when people of Missouri are considering "The County Unit Law and Equal Suffrage Question," both of which have a more or less moral sentiment involved, Col. Ed. Taylor, who resides on his little chicken farm near Middleton, comes to this little city with a rather remarkable story. Col. Ed. Taylor is a unique character. He gained the cognomen which sounds so much like Kentucky by being one of the most congenial and popular bartenders in Missouri about 25 or 30 years ago. He was prominent in Kansas City, St. Louis, Mexico, Merly and here, and nearly everywhere he went he was known as "Col. Ed."

He went to this day brings of the distinction he gained by being trusted with $28,000 worth of diamonds given him for safe keeping by the famous opera singer, Fay Temple, who was so popular in Missouri a quarter of a century ago and is now an old lady. She was about to go on the stage and not desiring to carry her diamonds that night she left them with Col. Ed. at the hotel. When Ed's picture came out in the Police Gazette as a fine-looking, jovial fellow with a "heart for every fate" it attracted national attention, and the letters he received from those with matrimonial proclivity would have frightened one less timid.

Here is an outline of his story as told in the Court House here: "Well, boys, whisky sure gave me a close call, but I finally got away. It made me popular with a great many people and I dished it out to friends and four for 18 years, until I got a terrible grip on me, too, and I can truly say that while I stood four years back of the bar at the Windsor Hotel in Kansas City, (it was then situated on Missouri Ave. and Walnut St.) I did not see that city sober in all that time. I had a little 'dough' when I went to Kansas City; enough to buy me a little farm and I made $10,000 a year, but whisky took it all away from me and also my life with it—except just enough to give me a new start under different environments. I was a confirmed drunkard, you might say, could not live without it. I had 'tended bar' in St. Louis, Kansas City, Merly, Mexico and in Montgomery and I was nearly all in. I finally decided that I would try to conquer myself and left the glitter of the city and my associates and friends who were riving me and I took to the woods. I came down to Montgomery County, got me a little chicken farm and some magazines and a Bible and boys I am now as happy as a lark, contented and free from the great cares of life and am at peace with myself, my neighbors and my God, and the people who think I am dead are very much mistaken. I am alive enough to vote and now that I have been sober for ten years I am going to vote dry and live dry. I had this rather strange experience in finding a Bible, which is now one of my companions in my little happy bachelor home in the woods. One day while I was drunk and living the 'high life' in Mexico they were tearing down an old three story building on the public square. I chanced to be there while they were wrecking it and I climbed up in the attic of the old building where I found an old family Bible. It was one of those old-time Bibles, printed away back about 1768 years ago. I thought of my mother, I thought of my own condition and I thought of what whisky had done for me; so I picked up that Bible and carried it away and began reading and thinking about it. For days and days I had had delirium tremens. It just seemed impossible for me to leave whisky alone, even for a time. Reading that Bible I found it belonged to the old family of Dr. French of St. Louis and when he heard that I had found it he wanted to buy it from me but he could not get it. I have it at my chicken ranch near Middleton, where it is going to stay. But as I said I got to reading that Bible and thinking about my condition I realized that I would quit the liquor business forever and try to regain my health, my equilibrium and if possible save my soul. I want to tell my friends throughout Missouri that I am happily domiciled on that chicken ranch near Middleton, and my old friends who used to drink with me, but have lost track of me for many years, can find me there happy and contented. Since I have come back to the county and quit whisky my neighbors and friends have encouraged me and I now understand and know what happiness and contentment mean and that is something that a drunkard does not know. I believe, however, that there are pretty good people in the whisky business, but they just don't know that THERE is a better way. Yes, boys, I stood back of the mahogany for eighteen years and, while I was on the square" in some things, still I would take the last red cent from any poor man who wanted to put his dime over the bar for a drink of red liquor. Of course, I am ashamed of this now, but that Bible and chicken ranch has been a great help to Ed Taylor, and it can help others who have any will power left to work on.

"I was figuring up the other day and I find that of the twenty-seven of my immediate friends and associates in the liquor business all have shuffled off this mortal coil but three, myself and two others; and I am sorry to say nearly all had a very sad end."

WOMAN SELLS LIQUOR Mrs. DeWitt Hoffman will have to serve six months in the county jail because she engaged in the bootlegging business at Columbia. She was convicted of selling a couple of pints of rye on March 7, 1914, to a couple of men at Pratheraville, a small miner's camp 4 miles north of Columbia. Soon after selling the booze, she fell out with the wife of one of her customers and a fight followed in which Mrs. Hoffman came out second best. She had her assailant arrested, and right here is when she tripped herself, as the assailant came back with the bootlegging charge and made it stick. The moral is plain, don't fight the wife of your customer, and if you do, don't have her arrested. Those who live in glass houses should seldom shy a stone.

Married Them All. The Rev. I. M. Turnage performed a marriage ceremony for a couple at Clark last week that had some peculiar circumstances connected with it. Twenty-four years ago to the day he married the bride's parents and 24 years this month he married the groom's parents. All parties were present at the wedding last week.

Had Taken His Weight in Medicine M. D. Faurel, of Gillesville, Ga., says he had taken his weight in medicine for headache and constipation, but never used anything that did him so much good as Chamberlain's Tablets. For sale by all dealers, adv.
